Gwen:

I sent John Shively an electronic copy of the letter as soon as I learned he didn't have it. I will check with Arvin to make sure the original was mailed from HQ after the shutdown ended. I confirmed that it was my office that released a copy of the letter to Wayne Nastri who had requested it at our last meeting here in Seattle after the Administrator's trip.

Subject: Meeting with Administrator McCarthy

To the scheduling staff:

I have previously communicated with Chief of Staff Keyes-Fleming about our desire for Pebble CEO John Shively to see Administrator McCarthy when he is in town on October 29 and 30. Therefore, this request may already be in front of you.

When Administrator McCarthy visited Alaska and the Pebble mine site recently, she invited Mr. Shively to meet with her the next time he was in Washington. He will be here on the 29th and 30th, and would appreciate the opportunity to meet with her about the recent withdrawal of Anglo American from the Pebble Partnership. He would also like to discuss with her the letter dated September 30, 2013, from Administrator McCarthy to Mr. Shively. That letter has not been delivered yet (we assume because of the government shutdown), but the letter was given by EPA to at least one outside party, because Mr. Shively received inquiries from the press about it.

He can meet during the late afternoon on the 29th, or at any time on the 30th. While he is scheduled to return to Alaska on the 31st, if that is the only time that Administrator McCarthy could meet with him, he will delay his return to meet with her.

Thanks for your attention to this request. Please let me know if you have any questions.

Best wishes,

Peter Robertson
